which we canceled 104,000 stamps some years ago, during a great campaign. Tuesday last there was a great campaign on. It was simply business answering the call of prosperity in the south. In the year 1900 this postoffice did $219,257.50 worth of business. In 1912, at the end of our fiscal year, we did $1,328,811.24. Business again. The advances in the revenue are a credit to the business of the country.

This postoffice administration is here to do work and work will be done. We will get an adequate force of men and give the people of Atlanta the best service they ever had. We are doing our best. 78 per cent of the volume of this office, 78 per cent of our business is coming back to Washington to swell the general fund. We need a 35 per cent revenue and more men and we are going to have them. We will give this city a new

In introducing Mr. Stephens as the speaker of the evening Toastmaster King said in part:
"This is the man whom the regulations say we must honor and obey. Aside from that, I predict that before another year we will be incorporated in that phrase the word 'love' and all but contract a marriage ceremony with each other."

Mr. Stephens, a small, heavily-built man with a bulldog chin, stood smiling as his auditors cheered him to an echo. Speaking with a husky voice, Mr. Stephens said in part:

Miss Collins' Work Meeting
With Enthusiastic Reception

Miss Collins, the state organizer for the Georgia Congress of Mothers, has begun her work for the present school year. The work has met with such enthusiasm that we are being urged to carry it through the entire state. Her towns may have the services of the organizer by addressing the present meeting. Appointments will be made as the schedule permits.

"What is the ultimate aim of the parent-teacher association?" To the last analysis the aim is economy—to make better citizens. It is an effort to get more through the improvement of the conditions under which the child lives, the welfare of the child in such a way as to produce better citizens and better parents.

One of the efforts of these clubs is to have the parents control the child's life. On the physical side, with the cooperation of the physician, the mother is working along the lines of child hygiene. All physical defects are being corrected. The parent-teacher association has contributed their services to our efforts towards the child by giving the formal talks to mothers. They know that the life of the child is in the hands of the mother, and they try to have parents realize that child is not a selfish creature, which is the bound standard for bringing up the child. These clubs have the great advantage of being simple and easy to make.

Tenth Street School Clubs
Holds Interesting Meeting

The first meeting of the season between the teachers and mothers of the Tenth street school was held Tuesday afternoon in the eighth grade room of the school. The surroundings were inspiring, for the room was a most attractive meeting place and the interest displayed by the many mothers gathered together, as well as the enthusiasm of the teachers, promised a successful meeting.

The most notable feature of the meeting was the report of the first grade. Miss Bernhardt, the first grade teacher, was directed to report on the progress of the first grade. She reported that the first grade was doing very well. The mothers were very interested in the report and asked many questions of child psychology, reading, attendance and general health conditions of the little ones. The report was very interesting and the mothers were very interested in the report.

Miss Bernhardt stressed the method of instruction. She said that the method of instruction was very important. She said that the method of instruction was very important. She said that the method of instruction was very important.

Murders So Frequent the Theory of the Periodicity of Crime Is Advanced.

Berlin, October 4.—Statistics showing the great increase in infant mortality during periods of extreme heat, published by Dr. Liepmann, chief bacteriologist at one of the great municipal hospitals in Berlin, have convinced the German Medical Weekly, disprove the "weaker sex" is concerned. Dr. Liepmann states that the increase in infant mortality is not due to the heat, but to the fact that the mothers of the children are not properly cared for. ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 5, 1913.

Daily and Sunday, except delivery, 15 cents; weekly, 50 cents; single copies on the street and at newsstands, 5 cents.

Davison-Paxon-Stokes Company

Now is a good time to test the efficiency of our Mail Order Department.

Here Is the New Store As It Appears Today Modern Building Planned for Public Service All Advantages, Comforts and Conveniences We Want You to Share

The old-fashioned country inn up in the states, in which hangs the following:

These guests, when they get to the new store, will find a new spirit of hospitality.

make this apply in a big, broad and new store. Especially would we want to share the spirit of hospitality.

beginning let us say. The store is not too old or too large to forget consideration due to its first friends. We have made progress possible for our friends in constant and cheerful friends.

How to Turn to Us for Service

A great book is whether we can go to the same fervor and devotion. The store, it must prove itself ready of each new day without disappearing.

There is ready to take care of your plenty of room for people to move and working elbows.

There is enough to hold the goods people bring into, and drawing from, will only enrich and strangely nourish life comes through the inflow of goods brought to take the place of.

The springing of this big clock-working mechanism to a fixed point, at any hour of the day, means satisfaction to all.

Improved Methods

Improvement methods have been improved, in every phase of the business—from the systems that prevail in the accounting room, on down through each department to the delivery of packages.

There are scores of new features, which naturally will be overlooked in the telling. We have tried to make nothing that experience and endless study have suggested for the betterment of our storekeeping plans for service to you.

Service!

Completeness. Skill in the art of gathering goods. The study of the people's wants, and in bringing together, from the best sources of the world, the newest and best merchandise—AT THE RIGHT PRICES.

Policy

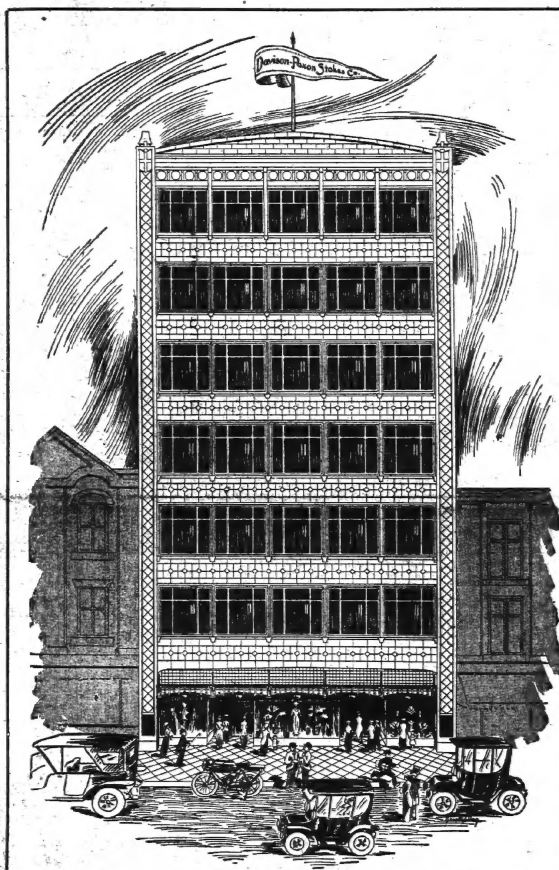

GOOD STORE POLICY IS LIKE THE ORDER OF THE GARDEN. It is easy for a violet to smell sweet, or for a carnation to share with you its perfume fragrance. The flowers can't help it. They live up to their nature.

"Nature Will Out"

Just as good storekeeping methods, right principles and good merchandise will out. They carry their own message with an eloquence of appeal that cannot be approached.

What is What the Store Hands For

The officials on Policy and Service are the ones who, into fresh sympathy with the people, of the institution which was

A Few Facts About Special Features

Approaching the front of the store, you will be impressed with the size and arrangement, the general attractiveness provided by our new display windows. Constantly will they present an artistic and comprehensive exhibition of the newest styles, and also values which will pay you well to consider.

We believe you will be delighted with the beautiful interior and its systematic arrangement. At every turn improvements present themselves. Handsome new furnishings and fixtures of the most improved type have been specially constructed and installed, after careful planning, to best meet in each case the true object of their purpose, present, in original manner, the most of utility as well as features of great decorative value.

Observe, too, how the additional space provided by the new building permits of much greater freedom; broad, spacious aisles, more convenient displays, the assembling of more thorough and complete lines of merchandise.

Five large, roomy passenger elevators, of the safest class known, in charge of courteous manipulators, are located at the left side of the building, and one passenger elevator at the right side. The stairway in the center, main aisle, makes the downstairs section easily accessible to those who prefer to walk.

Extremely rich and beautiful are the goods, as they are displayed now, on tables and in cases for the utmost ease of inspection. Increased stocks—distinguished and widely diversified, providing for the needs of every occasion.

Summing it up briefly, we would say: This is a modern conception of a store as it should really be.

We want you, friends, old and new, to make this your store home. And we shall be glad to have your suggestions and criticisms.

The Newest Styles Are Always Shown in Wooltex

Almost every day Madame Savarie and her associates in Europe send by mail or cable the latest style news to the Wooltex designers in America.

Almost as quickly as the news is received its message of style is carried into Wooltex Suits.

It has been said that "clothes make the man." It is certainly true that Wooltex Suits make Stylish women.

We Are Opening Up New Corsets Every Day

Keenest interest is being shown in the new models as they are brought out for the inspection of our customers.

For the very good reason that they are cut with a special view to the new gown fashions.

Almost all of them have the very low bust, and many have the cleared hip, both features which make for suppleness. Many are made of uncommonly pretty materials, with novel ideas in the trimming.

Before gowns can be fitted, one must have a correct, new corset—and they may require fitting, too.

The morning hours are best for appointments. You can easily and happily choose from any of these favorite models.

Vol. XLVI—No. 111.

TRAFFIC REFORMS TO AID REALTY MEN

Law Barring Parking of Automobiles Will Mean Erection of Many Garages.

W. P. Walhall, of the Forrest & George Adair real estate agency, says in the proposed revision of traffic regulations of Atlanta the erection of new avenues of real estate activity.

His ideas, however, run as much to the appointment of committees to consider new ordinances as to the enforcement of the existing city laws on this subject.

There are ordinances in the city of Atlanta today, says Mr. Walhall, which, if enforced by the police department, would remove every parked automobile from the principal business streets of the city. Enforcement is all that is wanted.

"Do not understand me, however, to be criticizing the police department for lack of activity along this line. I do not blame them. They are doing as well as they can under the circumstances or no public sympathy back of them which a matter, and laws are usually worthless unless the people show in some way that they are enforced."

Parking is Forbidden.
"Nevertheless there is an ordinance prohibiting a parking automobile. Yet I can show you machines which stand in front of offices, buildings and the crowded streets of Atlanta from end up to street and are never moved. Maybe I am guilty with the rest, but the police never move them. Standing machines I am sure, will be a great hindrance to the streets on each side of the street cars and the vehicles of the street cars, and as a consequence, the streets are always congested."

These are the conditions as set forth by Mr. Walhall. In so far as the streets are concerned, the enforcement of this ordinance would be the result of the enforcement of the ordinance. The enforcement of this ordinance would be the result of the enforcement of the ordinance. The enforcement of this ordinance would be the result of the enforcement of the ordinance.

World Means Many Garages.

The enforcement of this ordinance would mean the erection of numerous garages on the side streets and in alley spaces adjoining the business section of the city, which spaces are now used for no practical use whatever. This would mean money to the automobile people as well as to the property owners and the real estate renting and building agencies.

Mr. Walhall, who is a real estate agent, is not out of his mind in a down town garage. During the day he drives his own car, garage fees will leave him in possession of the car as part of a chauffeur's wages. If he has a chauffeur, he can get a car to go to work.

In regard to the suggested plan of all traffic traveling in one direction down one street and traveling in the opposite direction up another street, Mr. Walhall thinks that it would be of great help to each street since it would send traffic of each street over both.

Manufacturers' Agents And Traveling Salesmen Need a Building Here

Here is a tip handed out by one of the largest real estate agencies of the city. Atlanta needs a building devoted exclusively to the needs of manufacturers' agents and traveling salesmen. This agency declares that it has requests for this sort of office space sufficient to warrant the erection of such a building. The erection of such a building would be of great help to each street since it would send traffic of each street over both.

Manufacturers' agents are frequently out of the city for several weeks at a time but when they are in the city they want office space and display window space and want them badly. To rent them such a man who is out of the city for several weeks at a time but when they are in the city they want office space and display window space and want them badly.

One of the most interesting of these announcements was that of the purchase of a large lot in Ansley Park by Miss Rosa Woodberry, who will erect a handsome brick school building.

Miss Woodberry purchased this lot through Edwin and Audrey's agency from the Realty Trust company for a consideration of $14,000. The lot is located on Peachtree street, opposite the Woodberry school, and has a frontage of 200 feet with a depth of 100 feet.

Miss Woodberry, who is now principal of the Woodberry school, on Peachtree street, will improve this lot with a handsome school building. The building will move her school. The building will move her school. The building will move her school.

East Fourth Street Improvements.
The L. J. Bottorff agency announces the following interesting sale of five lots on East Fourth street and Charles avenue, which brought a total consideration of $14,000.

For the McKenna Trust company to build a four-story building on East Fourth street, between Peachtree and Charles avenues, 300 feet from Barnet street.

These lots were sold in a single transaction at $14,000. The lots were sold in a single transaction at $14,000. The lots were sold in a single transaction at $14,000.

REAL ESTATE BUSINESS JUMPS WITH CLEARINGS

Marked Increase Shown as Result of Easier Money Conditions in Georgia.

Real estate business is only when there is money to be invested. The real estate business of the last week has shown a marked increase. A reason for this increase may be found in and a line on the prospects of the future may be deduced from the bank clearings of the last week.

These clearings have shown a large increase. The bankers concede that this is due to the more abundant money and sale of the cotton crop and other farm products.

The effect of this, of course, is felt first in the smaller crops which are the products of the country banks and the jobbers this money is reaching Atlanta and its effect is surely being felt here.

By way of rephrase it may be stated that there is scarcely any comparison between the real estate business of last week and the week before, so far did that of last week exceed.

Note now that the bank clearings of the last week show a total of more than $2,500,000, over three of the last week. The clearings of the last week show a total of more than $2,500,000, over three of the last week.

Further encouragement is found when it is announced that the clearings for this week exceed the bank clearings of the corresponding period of last year by $250,000, and the real estate market at this time last year was no "piker," at that.

EMBROIDERY DESIGN for WAIST-BLOUSE

WITH FRONT CLOSING - MEDALLION INSERTION

Put some soap in a pint of hot water, stir and remove soap. Saturate Design with mixture then remove excess moisture by partially drying Design. Place material on a board, flat surface and lay the Design, face down, upon the material. Cover with two folds of newspaper, and with a tablespoon rub, pressing hard, until the Design is entirely transferred.

PATENT PENDING.

1. First, conduct the pleasing little pattern, every part the exponent of simplicity, will appeal to all needleworkers. First place back of the design intended for insertion upon stout patch of net. This net should be durable, and most nets are fragile. Then work over the waist fabric through the net and do not cut the dress goods from above the net until the pattern is finished and washed. Then with the aid of a pair of very sharp scissors clip out the design, leaving the net beneath. As the rough edges will be revealed, lightly wash the extreme edges of the net, through the upper fabric, making a stout outline to hold the net. Use a sheer white goods for this waist make pretty pattern where circles are indicated, using a fine needle for the purpose, and single strand of floss. Pad the flowers quite heavy, in fact, enough to give a decided flower in each place. Sincerely yours,

Winifred Worth

ODDS AND ENDS

IF, after washing, channels, there seem to be harsh places rub them steadily but gently through the hands, and soon they will quite disappear.

WHEN making aprons, especially those to be used in doing housework, do not forget a large pocket. It will save many a step in dusting and picking up.

WATERY custard is caused by cooking in an oven that is too hot. Set the custard in a pan of hot water and see that the water does not boil during the baking.

IN putting down linoleum or oil cloth have strips of mending nailed on the edges next to the baseboard. This prevents dust from getting under and preserves the edges.

IF you are doubtful about your cream keeping fresh, heat it to almost boiling, put in tightly corked glass bottles and set on the ice in cool. In this way it will not sour nearly so soon.

DATEL are much cheaper, more wholesome, more nutritious and richer flavored than raisins and may be substituted for them in cakes, puddings and pies. But be sure you fresh ones.

In blue has run into other material, oil the clothes with water, rather strong solution of ammonia, using water. If this does not remove the stain, soak the clothes in rainwater to which vinegar and bleaching powder have been added. This must be undiluted, for white clothes only.

To clean wall paper, use pulverized pumice stone four ounces, per quart; mix thoroughly with water. Form into balls two by six to eight inches; sew in a cotton cloth, boil forty minutes, or until firm. After cooling allow them to stand several hours. Then remove cloth and use. This formula was given by a professional wallpaper cleaner.

To remove axle grease or tar from the hands rub well with fresh, unsalted lard. Allow the grease to remain on a few minutes to soften the dirt; then wash in quite warm water with good soap, rinse well; then dip in vinegar to kill the alkali. The hands will be clean and smooth.

WIPING the kitchen oil cloth with skim milk will be found almost as beneficial as treating the cloth with a coat of varnish. The milk can be wiped dry in a few minutes, but the varnish will not dry for several days.

WHEN the wooden steps are removed for a professional cleaner, send for a professional cleaner. She should dissolve oxalic acid in boiling water, apply it to the steps with a stiff scrubbing brush or broom, rub hard, rinse with cold water and wipe with a clean dry cloth, after first having absorbed the surplus moisture with a sponge.

FUM gum arabic starch put one-fourth ounce of the best gum in a large mouted bottle and cover with a pint of water. Set the bottle on a cloth in a pan of water over the fire to dissolve, stirring until it liquefies; then strain through a clean cloth and bottle for use. Good for stiffening lace.

To remove stains from white flannel mix together equal quantities of the yolk of an egg and glycerine; allow this to remain on the spot where the stain is for half an hour; then wash the flannel in a light suds of white soap and warm water.

In certain heavy woollen garments have to be kept out of the regular "packing away" boxes, barrels or chests, do not hang them in the dark corners of your closets. Keep near the door and hang out by sunbathing every week. This will prevent moths from breeding and destroying the garments.

HANDY little boxes just large enough to slip into a man's pocket, or a woman's handbag, and filled with a day's supply of soap, tooth powder or paste, a little talcum powder and perfume, a small comb and a tiny glass are excellent things to carry if one expects to stay away from home for twenty-four hours.

DAME FASHION SAYS

BY MRS. KINGSLEY.

THE newest paraisols are covered with bordered voile, chiffon or silk. For evening wear the Mini color is favored. The hair is banked high on the crown of the head and clusters of short curls fall over the ears. Solero jackets are cut off quite short, the ends frequently tied or drawn together under an ornamental motif.

The latest offerings of the millinery world is the hat of changeable silk or satin veiled with tulle and trimmed with flowers.

Very long gloves are being worn with the short sleeved dresses and the surprise of the moment is for them to lie in folds at the tops.

Pale blue batiste is used for a charming frock, and the low belt of folded tulle is caught at the side with a pink rose.

This is a season of bright colors and a prominent shade is yellow, beginning with the palest sand color and running to brown.

Sheer hand tucked linen adorned with eyelid embroidery and lace is used for juvenile coats. These are lined with pale rose or blue silk.

Combination garments are drawers and petticoat, corset, petticoat and drawers, either in two or three garments.

The jacket of contrasting color and material has been followed by the leading Parisian houses, each putting forth its own individual rendering.

Smart little coats of white serge have collars and cuffs of colored satin. Ball buttons covered with the same material are used to fasten the coats.

The Medici collar makes a very smart addition for a vest having Y shaped lines. This style of collar is proving its favor because it leaves the throat bare in front.

The favored trimmings of the hour for frocks of all varieties are embroidered bands done in the vivid colors of the Balkan states.

The wide crush grille of satin finished with a large bow tied so the ends and loops extend above and below the grille, by several inches, is very becoming to the girlish figure.

An extremely beautiful gown seen recently is of white crepe with a design sketched in exquisite colors. The whole is veiled with a net of gilt beads.

Japanese and Chinese paraisols of silk, chiffon or lace appear in odd designs. The square, round, oblong and oval pagoda shapes will appeal to the woman who desires unusual accessories. Many paraisols are lined with silk or chiffon of a contrasting

CLEVER CREATIONS FOR LITTLE MISSES

THE SOCIAL CLIMBER

BY LUCILLE DADDET.

IF the baby kicks off his little slippers they can be fastened at each side with miniature gold safety pins. These pins are very small—less than an inch long—and made of gold wire. They are sufficiently strong to pin the slippers and stockings together. Do not pin at the back, because it is the sensitive part of the foot and might annoy the baby.

THE way of the social climber, like the way of the snail, is devious. The straight and narrow way, while leading into ultimate good, is not the only way for final redemption for the sinner despite all pupil teachings to the contrary. The soul part of us is reached by experience along various paths, according to our ability to see and grasp at the time just what is best for us, and while the path for you might be shortened by your quickened and awakened consciousness of your need for what is best, I might go stumbling on for years and then only awake to my necessities at the end of a long and life. But, mark you, if it were only to be a glimpse for me of what you had enjoyed in spiritual happiness for so many years, my kingdom would be my own chance just the same!

And now to go back to the social part of your aspirations. The straight road into the kingdom of social aspirations for one may be shortened by some unlikely chance of outside help in the form of a socially prominent relative or friend, while for another it may mean the slow, hard climb of years, and whichever way the course is there is always something to learn, by the way, that will either strengthen your present success or aid you in the effort to reach it.

The girl with determined social ambitions should start out to satisfy them with a decided system of procedure. "Here is a scheme I have offered me." What have I got to do? And see just where it is best to place it and how much it is going to bring in to you.

In looking over your "capital" keep in mind that beauty is not an essential for social success; it is merely a little bit more "capital." I know a girl who was musically inclined, in fact, rather gifted that way, and her parents had sacrificed most of the modern comforts in life—viz., servants and luxuries in the way of household—order to give her a good musical education.

Her artist soul recognized in this reserved woman a kindred soul, earnest and fine, and she began to talk music with her, not expecting her own ability, but drawing out the interests of the other. She was fitted to a quiet cup of tea "that they might talk things over." She went to the house to the music room, where the "quiet cup" was served, and centered her whole attention upon what the other could do. Her tact and skill and her own carefully trained gifts made her slow that you have time to think it over, what is your special chance for social success? Can you talk better

CORSETS AND HOW TO WEAR THEM

BY EDNA EDAN.

THE mistake most women make, and especially those who have reached middle age with a "comfortable" figure, is in the shape and size of their corsets, also the method of putting them on.

As a rule the woman who finds flesh increasing sets out to buy a corset that will "hold her in" and so strong the corset will keep the flesh in. These are desirable qualities, of course, but the quality of strength is not always understood. Strength in the opinion of most women means something hard and unyielding, but as I have said before more than once, a light weight corset will be much more satisfactory than a heavy one. In fact, the first necessity in a corset for a woman whose figure is somewhat full is that it should be light in weight, with a few good bones to hold the figure under the arms and over the hips. The corset fitted with many bones gives no special quality save weight and stiffness, neither of which is desirable.

I know there are many women who will feel they cannot agree with me there, but this is because they have never tried the more pliable corset. I am not talking theory, for I belong to the plump type myself and have made a special study of the corsets especially suitable for this class of women.

No stout woman should wear a high bust corset. Many do, I know, with the idea that only a high corset will prevent general adiposities. But this is a mistake. A corset with a high bust is not only uncomfortable when the wearer sits, but it is restrictive as well.

There are many lightly boned supporters on the market alike round and one of these should be worn with the low backed corsets. This will keep the body cool and give it the greatest comfort. Then the corset must be long in front and at the sides. The stout woman may think a little corset will be uncomfortable, but a short one will be torture.

State-Wide Milk Survey

The decree has gone forth from the state department of agriculture and from the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce that Georgia must have pure milk. Appreciating the necessity of thorough milk inspection and reforms in controlling the milk supply, Hon. J. D. Price, commissioner of agriculture, on August 1, installed a laboratory for milk inspection with an expert, Dr. Kenneth N. Atkins, director. After two months' thorough survey of the conditions in Atlanta and in other cities of the state, Dr. Atkins is prepared to present the results of his investigations to the public in the form of an illustrated lecture.

The invitation to give this lecture comes through the chamber of commerce committee on milk supply, Dr. S. A. Vianca, chairman. This meeting will be held in Taft Hall, on Tuesday evening, October 7, at 8 o'clock. Free admission will be made by Hon. J. D. Price, Dr. R. E. Stallings, state chemist, and Mr. Atkins.

The women of the City Federation of Atlanta have pledged their hearty cooperation and will be present on Tuesday evening.

Club women have visited the laboratory with Dr. Atkins and Dr. Vianca; have heard and seen, interesting and startling facts and want all the women of Atlanta and of the state to become acquainted with conditions which so vitally affect every home.

Knowledge on the part of the public, especially that portion of the public which has undertaken to improve conditions, is the basis of effective action. Tasks cannot be accomplished for which there are neither power nor machinery, but in this instance these essentials are provided and it only needs the governing pressure of public opinion to push this work to a successful finish. It is not enough for the board of health to act on complaint, but state-wide inspection must be made, state laws must be supplemented by ordinances that must be made effective.

It is interesting to learn how many violations of the state laws concerning milk were reported last year, what action was taken, how many cases brought and what disposal was made of them. The code will not enforce itself, nor can health officials be altogether blamed when the citizens remain indifferent. The public should demand a regular printed statement of the standing of the producers of milk supplies. This would provide not only a great protection to the consumer, but a stimulus to the producer.

The discussion on Tuesday evening will make it evident that wholesome conditions do not develop spontaneously. The people must learn that evils exist, the producers must be educated to overcome these evils, and organizations must make their demands for improvement. Most of all, the force of public sentiment must back the efforts of those who are prepared and willing to lead bringing about desired results. The compilation of facts now ready to be given to the public will show that the output of milk demands immediate action.

Women's clubs have proven helpful allies in many improvements in civic conditions forwarded by men's organizations; let them unite forces now with the department of agriculture and the chamber of commerce to stimulate interest in the development of their efficiency in securing for the state better, purer milk. Club women everywhere are recognizing more and more their obligation to their community, to this call. They must stand ready to foster this important interest and give opportunity for its practical expression in connection with the coming lecture.

The interrelation between the well-being of the community and that of the individual becomes very clear when it is seriously considered. Human life is the greatest asset of the state. Its conservation should be our greatest task. Women's interest in all food problems is natural, and it is so much more whether our federal laws are adequate and enforced to conserve the public health. It means even more that state laws should supplement the federal law, and it means most that the city or county in which we live has effected real reforms.

Public sentiment will right the wrongs and correct the deficiencies that now exist. No one will gainsay that the regulation of the milk supply is one of the "indispensable rights" of women. There is need of the woman's interest, the domestic sense of cleanliness and the active demand from the consumers' point of view.

When the representative women of the state meet in Cuthbert at the annual meeting, set in motion this great engine of public opinion as regards pure milk. If this work is broadly undertaken the department which determines the milk standard will be of inestimable value to the state.

STRONG PRESIDENTS HAVE AIDED MONROE CLUB IN ITS WORK

The Monroe Club has been organized in the autumn of 1910 with Mrs. B. S. Walker as president. Since that time we have had only two presidents, Mrs. Robert H. Jones and Mrs. J. L. KIMBROUGH.

Under Mrs. J. L. KIMBROUGH, there have been three capable and enthusiastic women who have done the heavy work.

The TAILORED DRESS which is so popular

EVERY woman has need of at least one gown which may be worn on almost any occasion, and the ones shown here are among the very newest so-called tailored costumes.

The large figure in the center is more extreme than the others, being of dark broadcloth and brilliant plaid silk, with skirt draped and knotted at the knees.

The suspender effect in the upper left-hand corner is very pretty with its black corduroy skirt and blouse of plaid silk, covered with chiffon. The suspenders and lower portions of the sleeves are of the corduroy.

The dress directly opposite this is of brown cloth, quite simple, but very stylish.

The smaller center figure wears a light frock, the turned back pleats and butterfly bow giving it unusual style.

In the lower left-hand corner is shown a black and white whipcord model, draped in back, and with a panel embroidered at the end. The black charmeuse in the right-hand corner is made with the apron effect, and is untrimmed except for black and white buttons.

Improvement—Final Score
47 to 0.

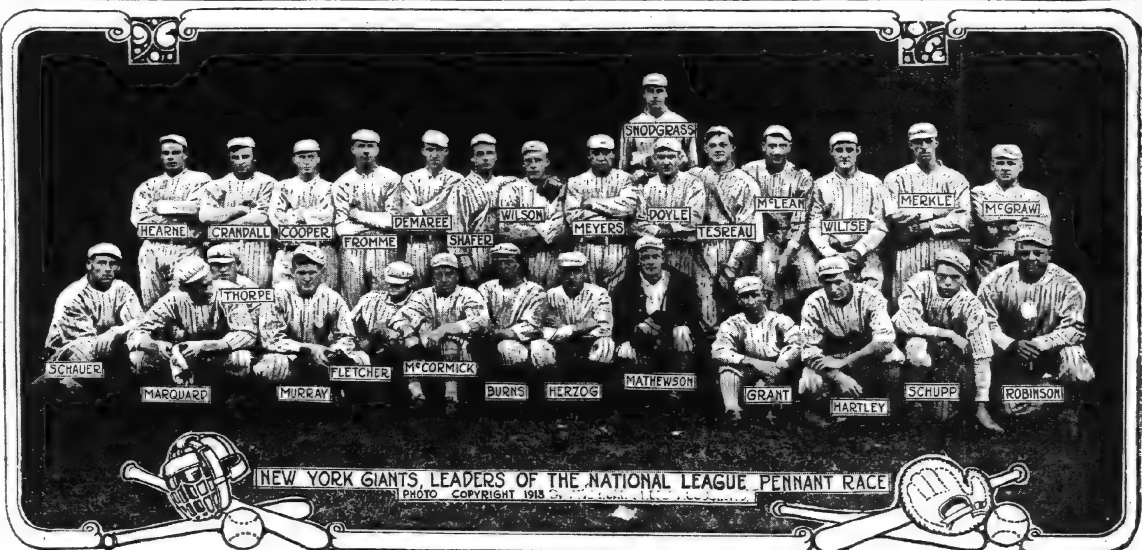

By Dick Jenson.

Displaying a final drive in their attack that brought results, the Tech Yellow Jackets won their second game last night on Saturday afternoon when they defeated the Citadel college team of Charleston, S. C. by the score of 47 to 0.

W. S. Johnson, three of their regular players, Johnson, at full; Patten, at quarter, and Loeb, at center, out of the pasture, the showing of the Jackets was one that should encourage even their most doubtful supporters.

It was that final punch, the ability to keep on going when the opposition had made them hesitate, that brought the large score. A dash into the line, it would bend, then give and the man

Auburn, Ala., October 8.—(Special.)
Auburn 53, Mercer 9. In a game featured by spectacular and running and passing play, Auburn defeated Mercer by eight touchdowns, and was able to outpace the visitors by 37 yards other by the call of time when Auburn was lining up on Mercer's three-yard line.

For Mercer, Cochran was easily the star player, rushing for 100 yards, and coaching and has acquired the slippery touch of a professional. He was also famous. He gave the defense considerable trouble until it solved his style of play.

Newell was the star for Auburn. His line play was the feature of the game. The Auburn line forced Mercer's offense was very good for this time of the year. Newell added the buck the gain considerable yardage.

On line plunges the backfield had a hard time of it. The defense was puzzled at times by Mercer's offense, the tackling was very back and forth, and the game was a close one. The Mercer team, while lighter than

LAND IS SOMETHING REAL, TANGIBLE, SUBSTANTIAL. IT IS THE FOUNDATION OF WEALTH. HAVE YOU EVER THOUGHT OF UNCLE SAM AS A REAL ESTATE DEALER? DO YOU REALIZE THAT HE HAS BOUGHT ABOUT TWO AND A QUARTER MILLION SQUARE MILES OF GOOD LAND, AND INCIDENTALLY OUSTED FROM NORTH AMERICA EVERY NATION EXCEPT ENGLAND? ALL OF HIS BUSINESS HAS BEEN DONE ON A LARGE SCALE. BACK IN 1803 HE HUNG OUT HIS SHINGLE AND HIS FIRST CLIENT WAS NAPOLEON, WHO SOLD HIM 875,000 SQUARE MILES FOR $15,000,000. THE TERRITORY THEN PURCHASED WAS EIGHTEEN TIMES LARGER THAN THE EMPIRE STATE AND CONTAINED SOME OF THE RICHEST MINES AND PRAIRIE LAND IN THE WORLD. FROM FERDINAND VII OF SPAIN, UNCLE SAM ACQUIRED FLORIDA FOR $5,500,000. HIS NEXT DEAL WAS WITH MEXICO. IN 1848 HE BOUGHT A LITTLE PIECE OF LAND EMBRACING THE PRESENT STATES OF ARIZONA, CALIFORNIA AND NEW MEXICO. IN 1853 HE STILL HAD HIS EYE ON A PASTURE OF 36,000 SQUARE MILES, WHICH HE BOUGHT FROM MEXICO. FOURTEEN YEARS LATER HE PURCHASED ALASKA FROM RUSSIA. UNCLE SAM'S LAST LAND DEAL WAS BUYING THE PHILIPPINE ISLANDS. HAS HE MADE MONEY IN HIS DEALS? I SHOULD SAY HE HAS. IF YOU WANT TO GET RICH COME AND SEE US AND

BOB McWHORTER

Georgia Captain's Sensational Form Assures Red and Black of Success

BY DICK JEMISON.
Athens, Ga., October 4.—(Special.)
Bob McWhorter is right.

"Not dead."

This sides up the football situation at the University of Georgia for the season of 1913, as briefly as one could possibly express it.

Psychologically, this sides up reality does what it purports to do.

Bob McWhorter is the last word in football in Athens. When you mention football to an Athens fan the definition is Bob McWhorter, and vice versa.

Bob will be star.

Bob is going to have the greatest season of his wonderful career on the gridiron, or I am no judge of the early form of a football player.

Bob was a sick man at the start of last season and this illness detracted considerably from his work for the season. But sick, Bob was good enough to earn an all-Southern half back berth, so you can see what I mean when I say he's "right."

The entire attack of the Georgia team will be centered around their star and if they did not center it around him they would be overlooking their best bet.

Do not misunderstand me. Bob is not going to be given all the work to do. He is willing enough and all that, and he will be surrounded by the duty of leading the team, on a large scale.

What I mean is this: McWhorter is the heart and soul of the Georgia team, and as the star, every play that is made on the offense is going to be shaped around him so as to get the most good results from the best results he will be the hitting point that Georgia will be her home to.

Headache faster.

Bob is starting faster this year than ever before, yet at the same time he is able to start with the ball he is going to be given the best interference that a halfback has ever received in the south.

There comes a psychology study. The Georgia team has confidence in Bob McWhorter. They know that he is the star, and they know that he is the one who will lead the team to victory.

See this point! The efforts of the team will be concentrated around him, and he will be the one who will lead the team to victory.

Bob McWhorter is the star of the Georgia team, and he is the one who will lead the team to victory.

Bob McWhorter is the star of the Georgia team, and he is the one who will lead the team to victory.

Bob McWhorter is the star of the Georgia team, and he is the one who will lead the team to victory.

Bob's idea will be of such inestimable value that one cannot get it down in figures.

After four years against "Red" they referred to John Davis as "old Twenty Year Cent."

It was considered that he was one of the best of the team.

Without reflecting on the ability of any other member of the Georgia team, he is a star in my humble estimation.

But we'll give him in action in Atlanta at least three times this season, and you can judge for yourself.

Bob McWhorter is an interesting football study, and his value to the Red and Black team cannot be fully expressed in mere words.

He is a star, and he is the one who will lead the team to victory.

The team as a whole is there. A little more team play and the regular line-up working daily, that word there can be spelled with a capital "T."

At this stage of the season, compared with the same stage of the season last year, the present team does not look as good, but to be honest, this year's team has not been known for its ability to win.

The answer is simple. Last year's team did it all. It was heart-breaking, but this year's team has not been known for its ability to win.

Georgia's 1913 season was a success. The Georgia team has been known for its ability to win.

Georgia's 1913 season was a success. The Georgia team has been known for its ability to win.

played in two quarters of the conflict and scored six touchdowns, six times making spectacular dashes for over fifty yards. Probably the most scintillating feature of the entire game was the dash of Flinn, who after receiving the kick-off on the fifteen yard line, ran for the entire length of the field surrounded by an impenetrable interference. Powell and Padgett both showed improvement on last year's form.

When it comes to enumerating the line stars just could be done only by naming the entire line. Smith showed fine form at end, while Henderson and Thompson ably took care of the back-field.

For the Alabama line, Nathan showed forth strongly above the rest of the line. The Alabama line was played well. The Alabama line was played well.

Here They Are "Face to Face"

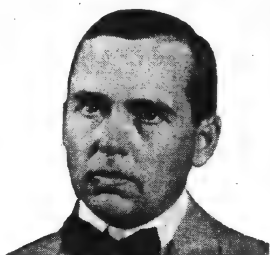

THE LIVE WIRES OF AUTO ROW

Do you know them now? These are the men who put five thousand motor cars on Atlanta streets. They never turned their backs on anybody in Atlanta until The Constitution photographer insisted on recording the backs of their heads. Few people guessed by their back hair who they were, although scores of auto fans filed their speculations. Those who guessed most of them correctly have not been selected.

These men regard everybody as a possible prospect for an automobile sale. They never lose sight of him. They are the sixteen leading automobile experts in the southern motor car industry. It's a treat to hear anyone of them expound the virtues of his favorite car.

M. NABORS—Manager Southeastern Motor Truck Co. Southern wholesale distributors Mack, Saurer & Newell, and Commerce trucks, he is one of the south's leading truck men and holds an unequalled sales record of 14 trucks in 12 consecutive days, each being an individual sale.

C. L. DEPUY—Yes, here from Texas, and he can pick the "winners." Certainly he had no say-so about being born in Texas, but he did the next best thing and came to Georgia. He sells the car everybody is talking about—the Fair 74, the car a year ahead. He also sells the best one-ton truck in town—the Seidon. STANDARD AUTO CO., DISTRIBUTORS, ATLANTA, GA. 225 PEACHTREE ST.

GEORGE W. HANSON, whom you are now meeting "face to face," is president of Atlanta's Automobile and Accessory Association. He is also president and general manager of the OAKLAND MOTOR SALES CO., NEW HOME - - - 45-47 AUBURN AVE.

FRANK C. STENBAUER—You are "face to face" with the man who helped to make the Cadillac a household word in Atlanta and the south. STENBAUER & WIGENT, 225-230 PEACHTREE STREET.

F. R. LUDWIG—Southern district manager of the Buick Motor Vehicle Co. Mr. Ludwig has long been a native of the south. He certainly will give you the 2nd hand when he meets you "face to face." He also extends an invitation to see the new Buick "45," new 1914 model. CALL AT THE FACTORY BRANCH, 455 PEACHTREE STREET.

H. M. BURNS—The tallest man on Auto Row. Here he is "face to face" with you. Along with O. E. Houser, he has been selling the automobile in Atlanta and Georgia for many years, and numbers his friends among the thousands. Mr. Burns and Mr. Houser have recently taken the Regal car and will be distributors for Georgia, Florida and Alabama. The new firm will be known as the REGAL MOTOR SALES CO., 745 PEACHTREE ST.

O. E. HOUSER—Who wears the smile that won't come off. Here he is "face to face" with you. He has been selling automobiles in the south for many years and, along with his partner in the south, has put some big ones across. Mr. Houser and Mr. Burns will have the distribution of the Regal cars in Georgia, Florida and Alabama. The new sales and show room will be known as the REGAL MOTOR SALES CO., 745 PEACHTREE ST.

A. H. GOODWIN—He wants good live dealers in the south for the Chevrolet—four-cylinder, 1-passenger, $759; four-cylinder, 2-passenger, 1913; six-cylinder, 1-passenger, 1914; six-cylinder, 2-passenger, 1914; and Cheas trucks, 500 to 4,000 pounds, priced from $150 to $1,500. DISTRIBUTORS FOR GEORGIA, 455 PEACHTREE ST.

W. C. MAHONEY—You meet him today "face to face." He is the southern branch manager of the famous "Lutcher"—the car that saves you trouble. It is friction-driven. The 1914 announcement of this great car will be out in a few days. Watch and read the papers for it. CARTER CAR COMPANY, FACTORY BRANCH FOR THE SOUTH, 225-230 PEACHTREE ST. PHONE IVY 2347.

H. E. GREGORY—City sales manager of the Cole Motor Car Co.—"The standardized car." Here he is looking you right in the face. Look out or he will sell you one of the new 1914 Cole 4-cylinder, or the proven car Cole 6-cylinder, which is causing so much comment throughout Atlanta and Georgia. These cars are now on display. COLE MOTOR CAR CO., 255 PEACHTREE ST.

R. T. SANDERS—Now you have him "face to face" with you and the first thing he will tell you is that he sells the greatest electric automobile in Atlanta. It's the Chicago Electric with the steel top. CHICAGO ELECTRIC SALES CO., 315 E. 3RD ST. EAST THIRD STREET.

GEORGE MCCUTCHEON—Southern district manager of the Buick Motor Car Co. He is the fellow that will meet you "face to face" and tell you all about the new Buick 1914 automobile. When better cars are built Buick will build them. BUICK MOTOR CAR CO., 241-245 PEACHTREE STREET.

CARL WILLSEY—He is willing to meet you all "face to face," even if he is a new-comer on Auto Row. He sells the American Heavy Car Type T10. Come in and see him. AMERICAN TYPE CO., ACROSS FROM THE MASONIC TEMPLE, PEACHTREE ST.

W. A. SNODDEN—You have him "face to face" with you. He is from the land of motor car builders. The name of the car is the Overland, which sells for $750 to $1,000. OVERLAND SOUTHERN AUTOMOBILE CO., 215 PEACHTREE STREET, ATLANTA, GA.

Eleven Cities Can Claim World's Series Winners In Twenty-One Meetings

New York, October 4.—Twenty-one times have the pennant winners of the country fought for the world's championship on the diamond.

The world's series will have its twenty-fifth birthday, however, with the following contest between the Giants and Athletics. It first came into being in New York in 1884, when Providence, winner of the National League pennant, crossed bats with the victors of the American League—New York's standard bearers. The old American association, there were lapses in 1891 and 1892 and a big gap from 1893 to 1894, inclusive, and still another lapse in 1894, when no games were played. From 1895 to the present, barring these interruptions, the post-season world has been an established custom.

During this short generation, once it started, it has been a regular thing and spread from a flag in the city of New York to the American League, this was in 1894, twenty-seven years ago. In the first season, this was back in Detroit and never since has crossed the Father of Waters.

Eleven Cities.

A flag without a home, it has floated over eleven cities. Providence, Chicago, St. Louis, Detroit, New York, Louisville, Boston, Philadelphia, St. Louis and Philadelphia—these have been the cities that have fought for the trophy.

Thirty-four games have stamped these teams in various years. Providence, Chicago, St. Louis, Detroit, New York, Louisville, Boston, Philadelphia, St. Louis and Philadelphia—these have been the cities that have fought for the trophy.

ELECTRIC COTTON GIN UNDER CAPITOL DOME

Entomologist Worsham to Supervise Ginning of Varieties Resistant to Black Root.

By the operation of an electric gin under the dome of the state capital at Tallahassee, entomology, Dr. E. L. Worsham proposes to save the farmers of south Georgia selections of cotton which are high in oil content, long in lint and free from the diseases of black root and all other diseases.

The gin has been installed and will be operated by Dr. Worsham in order to be sure that the cotton seed are kept free from all diseases and diseases which have not been proven resistant.

This is the final step in the handling by the Cotton Breeders' clubs, organized in 1917, of the cotton seed. Dr. Worsham, Georgia last spring by J. R. Williams, representative of the United States Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, the representatives from this month to the club will carry the members of the club to the gin to see the resistant varieties have been tested and the seed will be shipped to the capital and

"In addition to being resistant," said Dr. Williams, "the cotton plants mature early and for this reason will be

And Thichness.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it falls, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a hair dressing that has been used to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who have used it have grown beautiful hair. It is made of a beautiful black shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe. It is made of the following ingredients by taking an ounce of argemone for seed, and a half ounce of Sulphur Hair Remedy. Boil the Sago and the Argemone for 24 hours, and strain the hair so naturally, so evenly, that it will be found to be a most effective application. Besides, it takes off dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair, and keeps the hair from becoming thin and brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. It will make the hair grow and appear, but what delights the ladies is that it will keep the hair from falling. Besides being beautifully darkened, the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the color and gives it an appearance of abundance.

with which Georgia must contend next year. Not only will this variety of cotton seed be of much value to the cotton oil mills by reason of the increased oil content, but will be im-covered at every standpoint. There have been a number of instances in which these clubs have been organized and they will give Georgia a splendid start in this fight."

WILL ASK LIBRARY FOR NEW COURTHOUSE

Headed by Attorney Burton Smith, several members of the Atlanta Bar association will call upon the county commissioners Monday to urge the necessity of having a library in the new $1,000,000 courthouse. Space had already been arranged for a library which will occupy half of one of the upstairs floors of the building. The bill creating a municipal court with five judges made it necessary to

EPISCOPAL CHURCH HOLDS CONVENTION

Triennial Convocation to Open in New York Next Wednesday—Many Important Questions to Be Discussed.

New York, October 4.—The next three weeks will witness the making of ecclesiastical history here by the triennial convocation of the Episcopal church beginning Wednesday, October 8, 1913. Bishops 256 clerical and 112 lay delegates will meet at the cathedral of St. John the Divine to hold their sessions until October 24. The bishops will constitute the house of bishops and the lay delegates will constitute the house of laymen. These two bodies will discuss amendments to the church constitution and their debates will bring to a head questions that have been agitating the church for many years.

No provision has been made for presenting to the convention the question of changing the church constitution. The denomination, clergymen and laymen of the church have been asked to send to the convention a statement of the present state of the church. The statement is to be presented to the convention by the bishop of the United States of America and the bishop of the United States of America and the bishop of the United States of America.

The question of the remarriage of divorced persons is one of the most important questions that will be discussed at the convention. The convention will be held at the cathedral of St. John the Divine, which is one of the most beautiful churches in the world. FASHIONABLE FROCKS
FOR FALL FESTIVITIES

The Well Dressed Woman

A MODEST TROSSEAU

By the Amateur Dressmaker

FOR five years Ethel's elder sister, Margaret, went away from her home in the city, where she had been a dressmaker, to a small town in the country for an indefinite time, she knew he was the one man in the world for her to marry and she had agreed to do so even though she was a dressmaker and typewriter for a law firm. Margaret would have been married in a tailored suit, but Louise was so horrified at that idea that Margaret instantly bought some white muslin and set it all to work on the wedding gown. With two lengths of the material she made the bodice and skirt of a First Empire frock which begins under the arms and is closed to a self-closing that also crosses the shoulders and forms sleeves for straight, narrow sleeves ending just below the elbow. High above the breast the bodice is gathered into three rows of cordons, set an inch apart and forming a wide skirt, while the skirt portion is slightly caught up under a corded waist to expose a white silk petticoat. The rest of the satin went into a long, square more outside garments, and congratulated herself upon the fact that she was going where silk kimonos are cheap and that time could manage with those she's been wearing. So we deliberately apportioned the remaining $10.00 as follows: $5.00 for materials for linings which we made up at home; $2.00 for shoes and slippers, $2.00 for gloves and hosiery, and $1.00 for a corset.

AUTUMN MODES FOR THE PROMENADE

Purple cloth was used in making the first of these smart costumes, which shows the slightly elevated waistline. A frill of emroidered multi extends above the neck and ends at the waistline in a buckle made of cloth. The fullness of the upper part of the skirt is caught in at the bottom by two rows of crocheted buttons. The other costume is a girlish model with jacket of hunter's green cloth and skirt of small checked black and white cloth, down the front of which extends a strip of the green cloth. The collar and cuffs are of white broadcloth.

THE NEW HAT AND COIFFURE

By Marion Morris

FEMALE head trouble" is what the foolish dictionary calls feminine headgear, but though it may have suited very well in other days it is in one sense, not so applicable this Autumn. For what with many and diverse models, the hats are surely less trouble to wear than some that we have known—and surely more becoming!

Perhaps the most interesting on the use of black velvet. Black velvet for afternoon hats, black velvet for dress hats—black velvet and more black velvet she shows us. So in nine instances out of ten, the shapes themselves are of the lustrous beautiful fabric, dependent solely upon the ornament or trimming for any lightning touch.

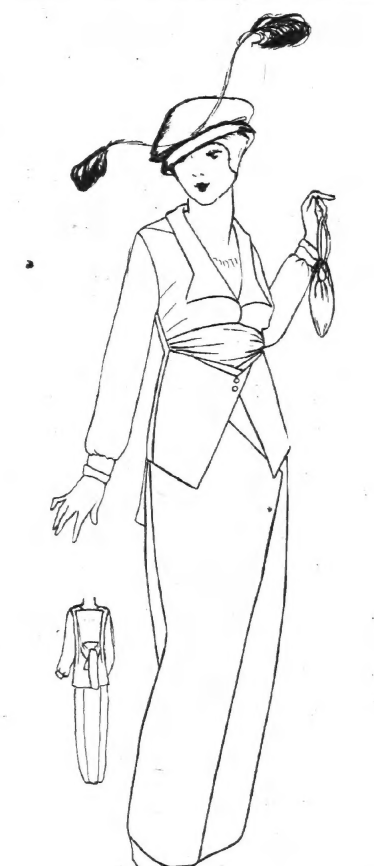

Smaller than ever they are, three new hats—and you will find their beauty in their smart shapes and delf, and unusual touches more charming than much elaboration. They are just such hats as will appeal to the women of good taste and refinement.

It is the smartness to the arrangement of the hair beneath it.

PERHAPS it is because we are not very far away from the time of lavender frills and lovely adornments, but at any rate quite a number of the very fetching new hats were adorned with frills for trimming. I saw patches of the loveliest pink and gold base on one black velvet hat, rich purple ruffles with their green leaves ornamenting another, and was green plumes forming a white wreath round the crown of still another black velvet hat.

In every instance the frill was the only trimming for the hat.

To women who love the richness and beauty of rich feathers, the news that the Winter millinery will show many plumes is pleasant news indeed. The feathers are used in many unusual and novel fashions—and you will see plumes tied and twisted and arranged as never before. One new idea is to train, weighted across the end to lie flatly on the floor. During the ceremony Margaret wore a long-sleeved, high-necked machine knit, but she will ordinarily wear with her wedding gown a small, square-collared bolero of apricot-stitched white satin, edged with pearl beads and having plain apricot satin revers. The wedding costume, including the machine veil, cost only $5.

The graceful lines of this chic little tailored model make it one which will be especially becoming to youthful and slight figures. The frock is developed in blue serge of a soft quality, and is trimmed with tiny buttons of black satin. The girdle effect is also of black satin.

MARGARET went away from our house in a black satin three-piece suit which will do for visiting, luncheon and informal dances. Widely plaited into the waist band is an overskirt that falls in soft folds to the knees, excepting directly in front, where it separates over the perfectly plain walking skirt. This space is covered by the elastic wide band and of an orchid shade the waistline in front. The orchid shade is repeated in the embroidery bordering the satin bolero and under that area that goes over a long-sleeved, white lace blouse. The third piece of this costume is a semi-train, which is laid in two

Good Sense and Symmetry

By Mary Langdon

This is the second of a series of papers on the harmless reduction of flesh. The third will follow in an early issue.

IF all the methods of reducing weight are as Turkish baths is perhaps the most popular. When I decided—20 I might just as well face up that I am the fat heroine of the doctor's office—that a little matter of twenty pounds or so in the discard would do me just that much good, every second person to whom I mentioned the subject immediately said "Oh, go and take a dozen Turkish baths and you'll be all right." Sometimes just to relieve the monotony I prefaced my tale of woe with a request not to mention what is apparently the favorite pastime of the land of the star and crescent in my presence, but my converse usually plaintively asked, "Then what are you going to do?" and seemed to have no alternative to suggest except starvation. Now to have my own dear family physician take up the same thing meant that I was to be finally driven to it. I hated to persevere, in fact it is almost as disastrous to me as nausea, but it was evidently the only thing to be done after six baths I had still retained of the original twenty pounds of excess baggage, and then a mere man took me to his knee—gratefully thanking me for my own good sense.

A variation of the Eton jacket is shown in this illustration. The gown is of prune colored velvet, the slightly draped skirt made quite narrow and the little jacket trimmed slightly with silk braid to match that on the skirt.

ONE of the quite fetching models now so easy to wear that very little indeed if you can't pass but a medium size trim, which has a slight droop on the right side and a very sharp upward turn on the left. It is immensely effective! But one's dress must be carefully coated for that was much in evidence with this hat. Indeed quite a number of the models are so twisted and bent that the hair is much revolved.

And speaking of the hair revolve me that the newest coiffure notes from abroad whisper that the hair is to be worn high again—dai over the forehead in the sleek, simple manner that we have just learned to manage—but rather high in the back, and with the hair piled on the crown of the head. It will be varied, of course, and so arranged as to cover the ears.

It is well to remember, too, that particular care should be taken with one's locks before choosing one's Winter hats. More than one hat has been
